U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.-This court was engaged yesterday in a case of Mrs. Mary Ruffir of Alabama against Col. B. B. Lewis was a silent partner, and for failing to get the bonds, she may justly feel proud.

We acknowledge an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of the Lexington (Va.) Military Institute, which will take place on the 2nd of July. The orator of the occasion will be Mr. O. B. Roller, Va., and the valedictorian will be M1. Smith Caruthers, of Louisiana.

THE OBSERVER'S ENTERPRISE .-We congratulate the Charlotte Observer upon the vigor with which it has fallen in with the spirit of the age. Its illustrations are admirable and add much to entomological information. We think on examination, that for convenience sake, some of the "big bugs" of the Observer must have sat to the artist as originals of the "insects," the ear-marks of Caldwell being plainly distinonished in no. 1.

THANKS FOR MEMORIAL FLOW-ERS .- Says a late number of the Portsmouth (Va.) Enterprise:

The managers of the Memorial Aid Society of Portsmouth, Va., return their thanks to the ladies of Raleigh, Weldon, Gaston, Halifax, Enfield, Franklinton, Boykin's, Newsom's and Sanford, for their generous contributions of lovely flowers, which were received in good order, and now deck the graves of our brave Confederate dead. They also thank Captain W. F. Drummond for his efforts in their behalf and kindness in taking charge of the flowers.

THE OLDEST MASON IN THE STATE.—The Weldon News claims the privilege of rising to have a say. It having been stated that Daniel McDowell, Esq., was the oldest Mason in the State, he having been a member of the order half a century, the News says that Captain James Simmons of that place, who is now in his 76th year, has been a member of the order 53 years. You speak correctly, brother Manning, but-Captain Simmons don't like to have his age published to the world. He is still a "young man" when in the presence of ladies. THE SCATTERED NATION .- We deem it almost necessary to invite attention to the fact that Gov. Z. B. Vance will deliver this famous lecture at Tucker Hall to night, for the benefit of Messrs. Williams and Bingham, members of the Raleigh Light Artillery disabled at Charlotte during the late Centnnial celebration in that city. Aside from the actual merit of the lecture, and we can speak of it knowingly, having had the privilege of hearing it, the object for which it is given will attract a large crowd. Let Gov. Vance have a rousing house to night.

V. BALLARD, Sec.

THE CLOSING EXERCISES OF THE LOVEJOY ACADEMY.-Yesterday occurred the closing exercises of this well known and highly appreciated educational institution in our city. We were gratified to see so many of our citizens, especially the large number of ladies taking such a great degree of interest in the exercises. The programme for the day embraced, among other things, a large number of declamations and original orations Out of the seventy-five pupils present no failure is to be recorded. All did excellently well, reflecting credit upon their instructor and doing honor to themselves. Probably a number of the young gentlemen deserve a special mention for the exceedingly handsome manner in which they acquitted themselves, but we refrain from doing so, as the exception might not seem graceful where all did so well and for the reason that other matters have a claim on these columns. The President of the Academy Jefferson M. Lovejoy, Esq., has a State reputation as an instructor of youths, acquired by a successful career in this noble calling of over forty years. Hundreds of "his boys" as he calls them, in this and other States of the South, have to thank "old Jeff," as he was formerly famillarly called by them, for the careful and thorough manner in which he instructed them. He had earned the high distinction which he now enjoys in his useful profession long before we were born, and his good works will live long after we have gone. Mr. Lovejoy during the past four sessions has been ably assisted CASE.-We present a brief outline of the points in this important case which was argued in the Supreme Court yesterday without reaching a conclusion. Ex-Judge Russell addressed the court on behalf of W. P. Cannady, and was followed by Rob't. Strange, Esq., on behalf of the rela-

Judge Russell argued upon the unconstitutionality of the act of the Legislature dividing the city of Wilmington into three wards, fixing the qualifications of voters, &c., on the following grounds: 1st. That the Legislature exceeded its powers in requiring a period of 90 days residence as a qualification for voting in the city. 2nd. That it had no authority to prescribe a qualification of residence.

3rd. That the Legislature exceeded its powers in appointing inspectors and registrars of election. 4th. That a portion of the city on the west side of the river is not included in any registration precinct but is in the 3rd ward, said ward being divided into four registration precincts.

5th. That the Act provides that any person, &c., may vote, not confining the right to citizens.

6th. That the city is divided into 3 wards, with 3 aldermen to each ward, the 1st ward baving 390 voters, the 2nd ward 360 voters and the 3rd 2,800, and for this reason alone the Act is unconstitutional, for the right to vote implies something more than the mere right to deposit a vote in the ballot box, the right to vote being the right to have the vote counted as equal to any other vote; and by this unequal division of the wards, the voice of 2,800 voters is so diluted as virtually to deprive them of the right of suffrage. 7th. That it discriminates against the colored voters, the case showing that there are 2,000 colored voters in the 3rd ward when the whole voting population is 3,000.

On the part of the Relators, Mr. Strange it was replied,-

That the act was Constitutional. Under Article 8, Sec. 4 of the Constitution, the Legislature shall provide for the organization of cities, and that this power is conferred without qualification or restriction. That while it may be conceded that the Legislature may not add to the qualification of electors fixed by the Constitution, Sec. 1. of Act, 6 which fixes the qualifications of electors, and which provides that any native or naturalized citizen who shall have resided in the State 12 months and in the county in which he offers to vote 30 days next preceding the day of election, applies only to State and county elections, and does not apply to elections of cities and towns. And as the Constitution is silent as to the time of residence required in a city, it is not only competent for, but obligatory npon, the Legislature to fix the period of residence, otherwise there is no time prescribed.

Section 1. of Article of the Constitution provide for the organization of counties, the period of residence and qualification of voters; but by Sec. 4, of Act 8, of the same instrument, the organization of cities is left to the Legislature; that no length of residence in a city could give a right to vote in a city: there might be an indefinite residence in a county, and none in a city situated in the same county, and that under this general control of the Legislature over cities, it would be competent to that body to appoint officers; but it is not necessary for the relators to enlarge on this proposition, because in this case, the election was ordered. That the present defendants claim to hold the offices of Aldermen under the Act of 1873. They were elected under the Act of the 20th of December 1870, their term of office beginning May 1873, and ending May 1874. By the act of 1873, the Legislature dispensed with the election for May, 1874, and extended the term of office till August, 1875. So they themselves claim under an act which dispenses with an election and continues them in office, which is virtually an appointment, the right to extend a term involving the right to extend to any longer period.

That if 90 days residence be unconstitutional, and the term of residence for all elections is fixed at 30 days, still it would not make the whole act veid. The act may be constitutional in part though defective in some particulars. It does not appear in this case that there was any one in the city who had resided there 30 days, and who had not resided there 90 days. It does not appear that the rights of any one were prejudiced in this particular by the act.

In regard to the question raised that the portion of the city ou the West side of the river was not in the election precincts in the 3rd Ward, there is nothing in the Act which requires any one in the 3rd Ward to register or vote in any particular precinct. No one is disfranchised by any such omission. In point of fact, it does not appear that any person resided on the West side

THE WILMINGTON MUNICIPAL Legislature has the right to make permanent appointments, it clearly had the right to make these appointments, they being necessary to complete the organization of the city. This is only done for the first election. After that, these offices will be filled by the Aldermen making the appointments.

As to residence in particular lots or blocks, the Legislature has the right to make proper rule sand regulations to prevent frauds and is the judge of what regulations are proper.

As to division of Wards, that is a matter under the control of the Legislature. Whether that power he exercised wisely or unwisely, equally or unequally, it is not for the courts to determine, but rests solely with the Legislature. If it is an evil, it must be corrected at the ballot box. It is a political evil and must find a political remedy.

to the act requiring qualification from allens, the Constitution requires that all voters shall be citizens whether they be native or natural-

And as to discrimination against color, there is nothing in the Act which abridges the right of any one to vote on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

The argument in this case will be continued to-day. THE MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES.

-The Trustees of the State Universi ty are still in session, though they will probably conclude their business to-day. Yesterday we learn they elected John De Berniere Hooper to the college of Ancient Languages, Dr. Charles Phillips to that of Mathematics, Rev. A. W. Mangum to that of Literature, Mr. Geo. P. Winston adjunct Professor in the College of Literature, and Rev. A. W. Redd to that of Natural Sciences. To-day the question of the election of a President will be discussed, and it will be discussed with animation. The opinions of a number of the Board, and that a very influential one, lean to non-action for the present on this question, leaving the direction of the internal management of the University to a Chairman of the Faculty to be selected by that body. Others advocate an election at the present meeting of the Board, and their arguments are forcible, especially such as enforce the idea that the choice of some gentleman of national reputation or some one at home who possesses the unbounded respect and confidence of all classes of the people, would at once draw such an influx of patronage as would dispel the fear that the salary of such a President as is desired could not be paid. We think the election of a President now is the very key-stone of the arch, the indispensable steps to secure confidence, patronage and success. But knowing nothing of the discussion except from rumor we forbear further comment upon a subject which is in patriotic and interested keeping.

of eloquence as the man of God por-trayed in strains of grand oratory the making atonement for sin. And in speaking of what the blessed Saviour had suffered for us, he mentioned an incident that came under his own observation, and will be long remembered by those who heard it for when it was concluded sobs and cries were heard and seen throughout the entire audience. The Bishop aid on one occasion in his travels he stopped for a night at the house of a gentleman in the highest circle of society and refinement, who had seve-ral daughters, one just returned from college; during the evening he no-ticed this daughter seemed unusually fond of her father, and that the father had a very bad scar on the back of his hand, and that this hand seemed to receive the especial caresses of the daughter, which became so notice-able that he ventured to ask the cause: when she replied. "Sir. that hand saved my life, my clothes were in flames, my father saw me, ran to my relief, in extinguishing the fire he burned his hand which left that scar, Oh! sir," she continued, "that is the prettiest scar I ever saw, that hand saved my life," and again and again she kissed it and wept tears of joy upon it.

A countryman took his seat at a four sessions has been ably assisted by his son Mr. R. W. Lovejoy, "a chip of the old block," who bids fair to follow in the footsteps of his father. That he may live to be as useful to society as his father is the best wish that his many warm friends in this community can make him.

A countryman took his seat at a hotel table opposite to a gentleman who was indulging in a bottle of wine. Supposing the wine to be common property, the unsophisticated countryman helped himself to it with the gentleman's glass. "That's cool!" said the gentleman, indignantly. "Yes," repled the other, "I should think there was ice in it."

THE COMMISSARIAT OF THE BODY.—The stomach is the commissariat of the physical system. It furnishes the natural sustenance of every organ. OUTRAGEOUS SUPERSTITION.

The negro jestiss Moore had the prisoner W. I. Jackson taken from the jail and carried down to where the dead man Charles Jackson lay, there to touch the corpse under the force of a negro superstition that blood would flow from the body at the touch of the real murderer. It was an indignity to the accused, whether innocent or guilty, and it was an indignity to the law to interpolate upon its already severe prescriptions so horrible an addition.

But the negro will make ducks and drakes of law and everything whenever he has the power to do

WITH such journals as the National Republican to pervert facts and to foster enmities it would have been a hard matter to have drawn any "yankee" organization to the Charlotte celebration. The doors were open to all the world, but the North was held back by just such statements as the Republican follows up with now. None but that journal has been so reckless as to say that "the entire affair was characterized by a spirit of venomous and treasonable sectionalism." So far to the contrary, that the people of did more to break down the walls of sectionalism than almost all other combination of events since the war, and made the participation in the Bunker Hill celebration by Southern people a thing of patriotic complacency.

All these evidences of reunion are disagreeable to the Republican, but the Mrs. Partington of that journal cannot sweep back the tide which is rising over the barriers erected by party hate between the North and the South.

THE Durham Tobacco Plant echoes very faithfully the ideas and almost the language of the Greensboro Patriot in arraigning us for inconsistency in regard to Beaufort and the changing of the gauge on the Atlantic road.

In calling attention to Beaufort as a fine harbor we did what no North Carolinian should have overlooked -that the State had a harbor pronounced one of the finest on the coast, connected by railroad communication with a railroad system at that time in existence, but by bad management, of little avail in building up the town or port.

If, since we wrote that article, that connection has been severed by the change of gauge of the N. C. R. R., by a process we thought and still think illegal, it certainly involves no inconsistency in adhering to original opinions. We are not prepared to follow the Pennsylvania company in all its vagaries, and to agree, because it has been so far successful in its schemes, that therefore it is right, and that every other system must fall resistless and powerless before it. It is a monstrous doctrine but exactly what the reasonings of the Tobacco Plant and Patriot lead to, that whatever was right before is wrong now; that the triumph of the Pennsylvania company over the law is a repeal of all existing statutes and a condemnation of all previous experience, and that to be consistent and patriotic, is to abandon at once all the teachings of the past and to yield in simple faith to those new apostles of the doctrines of salvation for North Carolina.

The President of the United States has received a letter from the Czar of Russis, announcing the birth of a grand daughter, and has replied congratulating the Czar upon that happy event. THE CONVENTION OF 1868.

We design publishing a list of the members of this body in order to show how inaccurately they represented the people of the State and how little their work is entitled to the respect and perpetuation. At present we will only mention a few names and circumstances as showing the composition of the body.

There were in the whole number of 120, six Democrats, Messrs Barnes, Durham, Melchior, Robbins, J. W. Graham and Osborne, all of whom refused to affix their name to the ratification of the Constitution.

There were fourteen negroes most of whose names have long since been consigned to the "archives of

There were twenty or more carpet baggers who shaped legislation almost absolutely. With few exceptions the rest were insignificant scalawags following blindly their leaders.

Among the carpet baggers who were rewarded with place either for their services in the Convention or by virtue of its provisions, may be found the following: John R. French, member of Congress, David Heaton, ditto, John M. Patrick, professor in the University, A. W. Tourgee, Judge of Superior Court, David D. Colgrove, Sheriff of Jones, Jos. C. Abbott, U. S. Senator, Sam'l. S. Ashley, Sup't. of Public Instruction, A. W. Fisher, Adjutant General, Byron Laffie, general railroad proxy for the State, and among the scalawags rewarded were W. B. Rodman, made Judge of the Supreme Court, E. W. Jones, Judge of Superior Court, Calvin Cowles, Sup't. of U. S. Mint at Charlotte, S. W. Watts, Judge of Superior Court.

This list imperfectly represents the number of those deriving advantage from the adoption of the Constitution, since its operations brought into play that stupendous system of swindling in which the carpet bagger so largely participated and really devised-and under which Estes and Deweese and French and others plundered the State and filled their own pockets.

Mann, and two of the French's and Sweet and Patrick and Laffin, have left the State, Colgrove was killed and Rich died, and some of the others are still living in the State in the possession of office, and some of money, the title to which is tainted. The smaller fry of scalawags were too insignificant to have arisen into notice under any other circumstances and they have sunk into their original obscurity.

SABLE JUSTICE. The examination of witnesses the case of Jackson, charged with the killing of a negro musician in Wilmington, brings out the absurdity and incompetency of the present . administration of the law in bold relief. If the matter were not so serious it might present as many broad farces, and be as enjoyable a piece of laughter-moving fun as anything seen in the Varieties. A monkey clad in the judicial robes is not a greater burlesque on the truth and dignity of facts than a coal black negro, swollen with self importance, impregnable in his vanity, imperturbable in his self confidence, impenetrable in his ignorance, laying down the law in that travesty of the English tongue, and that wonderful confusion of ideas and principles that naturally comes from so benighted a fountain.

The elevation of the negro to such inappropriate positions is the direct application of the doctrine that all men are born free and equal. The partiality of construction which has been applied to the negro, enables him to fly full fledged to the highest perches of his ambition. He is admitted to the bar without the qualifications exacted from the white man, and he is commissioned to arbitrate upon the lives and fortunes of the people with precisely the same mental gifts and acquirements which made him so conspicuous as a cultivator of cotton or a hoer of rice. His education was at the plough tail or hee handle, and he bounds at a leap into the mysteries of jurisprudence and the arts of legislation.

And experience in legislation gives Mr. Bill Moore, the sable magistrate of Wilmington, the claim to make his brother justices stand aside and to take in his own hands the scales of the blind goddess.

Hear his sable worship in the administration of the oa'h : "You and each of you do solum i swar dat you will tell de whole trut between the State and W. Jackson. And at the close of the examination of the opinion of the jestiss es he called himself-a pungent jestwit in the Provinces of North and South Carolina and Virginia, under officers of their own recommendais lucidly given as follows : Court does'n't see anything but dat tion; that each man will receive the de defendant has to be bounded over to de next term of de Superior Court to answer de charge of mur-

And it is to such fellows does the present constitution confide the lives and fortunes of the white people of a large portion of the State.

HISTORICAL.

The following Proclamation of the Royal Governor Josiah Martin, who accompanied the army of Lord Cornwallis to Charlotte in 1780, probably the earliest paper ever printed there, will be read with interest. The original copy of it was found by Gen. Jos. Graham among the papers of a very aged illiterate German neighbor by name Slinkerd, near Vesuvius Furnace, 25 miles from Charlotte in Lincoln county, in 1816 or 17, on occasion of writing his will. His account of it was, that it had been brought to his house, about this time, by a messenger sent to distrib ute the Proclamation through the country, and with the information that Cornwallis had an abundant supply of salt, then a very scarce article, which could be had at Chanlotte. This original was sent to the Hon, Nathaniel Macon, at Washington, through Dr. Jos. McNitt Alexander, probably for some one preparing to write a history. Dr. Alexander however seems to have preserved a copy which he caused to be published in the Raleigh Register of April 30th, 1819, along with the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, as another relie of Revolutionary History. From this, the document has been preserved. What became of the original sent to Mr. Macon is unknown. This is copied from a note to the memoranda of Gen. Graham, University Magazine 1856:-W. A. G.

NORTH CAROLINA. By his Excellency Josiah Martin his Mujesty's Captain General, and Governor in Chief of the said Province, &c., &c., &c.

A PROCLAMATION. Whereas the King, ever auxious for the welfare and happiness of ail his people, and sensible to the represtantly made to him of the steady and unshaken loyalty, and of the inviolable fidelity and attachment of his faithful subjects in this province to his person and government; and confiding entirely in their repeated as-surances to his Majesty of their own utmost exertions in co-operating with his armies whenever they should be directed to their support And, whereas, his majesty, moved by these considerations, and by every the most tender and paternal feeling of concern, and regard for the sufferings and misery of his faithful people, under the intolerable yoke of arbitrary power, which his majesty, with indignation, sees impose by the tyranny of the rebel Congress upon his freeborn subjects, thath been pleased to send an army to their aid and relief. I have therefore thought it proper, by this Proclama tion, to inform his majesty's loyal and faithful subjects of this Province. of this great proof and instance of his majesty's gracious attention to them, and at the same time to advertise them that the royal army under the command of Lieutenant-General Earl Cornwallis, is thus far advanced to their support, leaving it to themselves to compute its power and superiority from the great, signal, and complete victory which it obtained. when in force very inferior to its present strength, over the rebel army on the 16th of August. And whereau while his majesty on the one hand holds forth grace and mercy to his deluded subjects, who shall immedi ately, and with good faith, return to their duty, to which they have in vited in vain by every reason and argument, and by every consideration of interest, of freedom and han piness; he is determined on the other to employ in the most vigorous and effectual manner the force of arms, and the united strength of his faithful people, to restore and maintain to them that genuine liberty, peace and prosperity, which they formerly enjoyed in such full security under the mild government and protection of Great Britain, and to compel the disobedient to submission to the laws, and to participation of those blessings of a free consti-tution, which through ignorance, infatuation, delusion, blind-ness and fraud, they have been hithertal led hitherto led to resist, notwithstanding his majesty's most gracious and merciful endeavors to reclaim them. Having thus signified to the King's loyal and faithful subjects, the arrival and progress of his majesty's army to their aid and support, which they have long and eagerly wished for, it becomes my duty that they may be united, in which they are to evince the sincerety of their profession of loyalty and attachment; they are to consider themselves in this hour most seriously and solemnly called upon by every duty of the sub ject to the sovereign, and by every tie and consideration of family, liberty and property, of present and future welfare and interest, with heart and hand to join and unite their strength with that of his majesty's forces, in order to deliver themselves from that ntolerable yoke of slavery and arbitrary power, which the tyranny of the Rebel Congress, lost to every sense of truth and virtue is evidently aiming to rivet upon them, by calling in the aid of the two Roman Catholic owers of France and Spain, whose policy and incessant labor it has been or ages to subvert the civil and religious liberties of mankind, and to restore themselves to that state of perfect freedom, which is acknowl-edged throughout the world to be found only in the envied rights and condition of British subjects: And whereas I have entire confidence, that it is the wish, inclination and ardent loyal subjects in this province, to employ their strength on this great. on, for the redemption of every thing that can be dear to men, in the way that is likely, most effectually and certainly to accomplish the great objects of peace and happiness which they have in view: I do hereby exhort and invite all the young and able bodied men to testify the reality. of their loyalty and spirit, by enigsting in the Provincial Corps, which are forthwith to be raised and but under my command, as his majesty's Governor of the Province, hereby informing and assuring them, that they are, and will be required to serve only during the Rebellion, and

ADDRESS OF THE EXECUTIVE matters be brought forward within bemocratic central com- days of their adjourning. that the people have a full opportunity of attending and expressing their MITTEE TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CON- ) SERVATIVE CENT'L EX. COM, RALEIGH, June 1st. '75. To the People of North Carolina: The General Assembly at its re-cent session called a Convention of the people to meet at Raleigh on the 6th day of September next, for the purpose of suggesting such alterations in our organic law as may be deemed wise and expedient.

NECESSITY FOR CHANGE.

The necessity for changing many of the provisions of the existing Constitution is generally admitted, and is too apparent to require extended argument. It is true that some of our prominent men at one time opposed the call for a convention; but their action was based on prudential consideration, and not on an indisposition to have the Constitution thoroughly revised. They feared that our purpose in seeking to reform our Fundamental Law, might be misconstrued by the violent and ill-informed men then controlling Con-gress, and the prosperity of our peo-ple checked, and the peace of the State jeopardized by some barsh and unconstitutional action on the part of the United States authorities. That fear no longer exists. We now have every assurance that the Constitution of the United States will be observed by the officers of the Government, and feel a satisfaction in announcing to you that the time has at last arrived when the officials at Washington City concede that the people of North Carolina have the interests of our people. THE CONSTITUTION, THE CREATURE OF MILITARY LAW.

same right to manage their local concerns which the citizens of other States enjoy. We can proceed with-out apprehension to perfect our Con-stitution and remodel it in the

This Constitution, the creature of Military dictation, was born in the throes of a Military reconstruction. Its authors were mainly Sciolists and adventurers, who had lived among us without preferment, or possessed of qualifictions entitling them to it: others were our recent slaves, who had known no law save the will of their masters, and others still were carpet-baggers, both black and white—alien in feeling and Radical in education—who sought positions here that were denied them where known-to despoil and humiliate us. And when their work was submitted to the people at the polls, thousands of our best citizens were deprived of the right of voting upon it, and over eighty thousand ignorant negroes were given the ballot to secure its adoption. It is no exaggeration to say that not one person in ten who voted for it could ead the instrument, and not one in fifty had read it or was even moderately familiar with its provisions, and many gave it their support beleiving it would be merely temporary, and to escape further agitation and revolution. It is natural therefore that a Constitution thus formed and adopted should be found unsuitedt o our condition, and that we should embrace the earliest opportunity consistent with reason and prudence to secure such changes as time and experience have shown to be necessary. Our organic law should be expressed in language clear, sim-ple and perspicuous, so that nothing may be left to inference or construcmay be left to inference or construc-tion; our rights, so precisely defined as to be comprehended by all men of ordinary intelligence; and each deartment of th be so restricted, that while left free to discharge its appropriate duties, it cannot by unwarranted encroachments embarrass the proper action of

THE CONSTITUTION UNSUITED TO OUR

That the Constitution contains some good provisions no one denies; it would be singular if it did not, but its abominable characteristic were so manifest that not a single Conservative member of the Convention that passed it could be induced to affix his signature to it, as a fit instrument to be submitted to the people. Indeed its provisions are so loosely worded and so badly arranged as to constitute but a medley of inconsistencies that defies the successful coastruction of the courts; in fact, to reconcile the difficulties arising from its practical workings, the court has in some instances been driven to supply omissions, and in others to introduce a new principle, hitherto un-known in the juridical history of our State, distinguished as "judicial legislation," an innovation anti-republican in character and invasive of the rights and duties of a separate department. Its provisions are so obscure that within the brief space of its existence many more decisions on constitutional questions have been demanded than in the entire previous history of the State—and of late we have witnessed the extraordinary spectacle of two sets of judges in both the 2d and 8th Judicial Districts, contending for the same position one of which claiming to hold by an appointment from the Governor for a period of ten years, an office that the Constitution seems to say is to be filled by the people at the polls, and whose term is expressed to be only eight years. In many counties, there is a practical denial of justice, the courts are inadequate to the public demands, and thus they are driven to resort to special terms, which are expensive and unsatisfactory, and persons ac-cused of criminal offenses are often confined for months without trial. We need a speedier justice and a less expensive judiciary system. We should abolish every useless office. which is now filled by a mere consumer; for only by a rigid and prudent conomy in our public as well as private affairs, can we hope to restore the State to prosperity. It is believed that the laws will be more impartially administered by a return to the old practice of a rotation of the Judges. AMENDMENTS TO THE CRIMINAL LAW NECESSARY. It is also hoped that a greater incentive to honesty and a purification of the ballot box might result from depriving those who are convicted of infamous crimes of the elective fran-

The matter of the Penitentiary which already contains more than six hundred able-bodied men, also demands careful and practical attention, to remove in some measure that burden from our shoulders. Most of our private legislation should be ex-cluded from the General Assembly. However, our limited space does not permit us to catalogue the numerous defects and imperfections of the pres ent constitution or to enumerate the remedies to be offered. There should be some general ordinance adopted in relation to private enactments, thereby reducing the expenses of the Legislature, and in order to prevent hasty and inconsider-ate legislation, that no new

CAREFUL SELECTION OF DELEGATES. As to the specific changes that ought to be made, these are to be considered by the citizens of the various counties, who should be careful to se-lect as delegates those who will properly reflect their wishes. Men of enlarged and practical statesmanship, spotless integrity, representa-tives of all classes of society, and whose positions among them will en-title their labors to confidence and support—and in their hands they certainly can more safely con-fide their rights than in the Conven-

METHODS OF CHANGE.

Of the two methods prescribed for changing the Constitution, that by legislative enactment is expensive, uncertain and dangerous; the several amendments recently submitted to and ratified by the people encoun-tered the greatest difficulties in their passage, and even after the will of the people was declared in their favor by over 40,000 majority, serious apprehensions were entertained as to whether they were properly adopted; again, legislators when possessed of qualifications for such duties, are encombered with numerous matters. and cannot bring that attention to each provision presented for consideration, without meeting such criticisms as may imperil their labors.

The Convention method is speedy and economical, the body is composed only of the same number of members as comprise the House of Representatives, and their minds are directed alone to constitutional reforms and their work may be completed and ratified, if necessary, in six months. As to the expenses that may be incurred, it is believed they will be more than defrayed in a short time by the reforms that will be inaugurated.

The restrictions imposed by the Legislature, fully and amply secure the Homestead, Mechanics Lien, Rights of married women, and Presonal Liberty, and should quiet the fears of the most timid, for they are recognized as of binding efficacy and are chiefly enjoyed by the friends of constitutional reform. Indeed they were incorporated in the bill mainly to remove partizan clamor, and anticipate unscrupulous agitation. They are not the property of a mere party, but had their origin in the necesisties of civilized society and were found among the statutes of various States previous to the war. QUALIFICATIONS OF DELEGATES. It is useless, however, to seek to quiet the mere caviller; the keen optics of some persons defy all law.— The mere fact that the honor of the best men in the State is pledged to their preservation, should satisfy every reasonable voter. This Convention is called in pursuance of law, and each delegate be-fore the shall be permitted to sit, to be entitled to a seat in said Convention or act as a delegate thereto,' shall swear to observe these "restrictions" (see acts 1874-5). Should a part comply and part refuse to take this oath, only those who obey the law are members of the body, nor are we without precedents; similar oath was required of the members of the "restricted Convention" of 1835, the same question was raised, and after debate all the members took the oath and observed the restrictions, and that in a time of high party excitement. In that discussion the distinguised Judge Gaston used the following language: "The State Legislature had indeed no authority to impose an oath upon the members of the Convention, but the people had ratifled the act of the Legislature by choosing delegates under it. If we transcend the limits or refuse obedience to the conditions therein prescribed, we are not the Convention called by the people, but a self constituted body;" these views were concurred in by Macon, Edwards, Morehead, and others. will dismiss this subject, however, by calling attention to the able work of Judge Jamieson on "Constitution-al Conventions," where, by argument and the cases cited by him in relation to this matter, he demonstrated that

In our last election it was gratifying to see Republicans who had hitherto submitted to the control of unsernnulous leaders under a mistaken belief that they were promoting the general welfare, seeing their cor-ruptness as demonstrated by the born Contracts" and other frauds and defalcations, and their vindictive and relentless policy, whereby they sought to degrade the superfor race by this iniquitous "Civil Rights Bill," overcome their party prejudice and give us their cordial support. To them we extend an invitation to remain and continue the work so auspiciously begun. To those who opposed us under the delusion of their leaders, who assured them this bill would never pass Congress and if it did would be vetoed by the President, though it now has his signature; and who have witnessed the earnestness with which the dangerous "Force Bill" was urged upon Congress, we say no longer re-main where there is neither safety nor honor to a North Carolinian. The battle for civil liberty is not yet over. "Civil Rights" is still a part of the secret carpet-bag programme for this State; though driven from the halls of Congress, it will be renewed in the Southern States. We there fore invite their co-operation. The Convention owes its final success to the support of some of their ablest representatives in the General Assembly and they are doubtless aware that the wise provisions introduced into the Convention of 1868, by their ablest native representatives were scouted and defeated by that same element that has brought ruin upon

> State. NECESSITY OF ORGANIZATION. The friends of Convention should at once perfect their organization and bring out their best men in every Connty in the State. The leaders of the Republican party know that by their reckless violations of the constitution and efforts to centraliz power in the hands of the Federal Government, they have justly for-feited the confidence and support of the people; they therefore trust not to heir own strength but to our apathy, and will endeavor to secure our de feat by divisions and false leaders. We therefore respectfully invite their attention to the following resolution adopted and successfully followed in their party and confusion to our

our last campaign:

Resolved, That we earnestly recomend to the members of the Democratic Conservative party to discourage independent candidates and all other disorganizers, that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our Conventions. Let your primary county Conventions be duly advertised and see wishes. The contest is important not only in its immediate effects but in subsequent results. The Republican party, under the leadership of carpet-baggers still remaining among us, will advocate the election of delegates, who will agree to meet and adjourn without holding a Convention, and this in violation of the wishes of the people, expressed through a two-thirds majority of their chosen Representatives, and after a considerab part of the expenses for mileage and per diem is incurred. We believe how ever the promise is but a delusion and snare, for should they ascertain they have a majority in the body it will be an easy matter for them to evade their promise by the refusal of a few to concur; as they do not acknowledge the "restrctions" as binding, they will resort to the most revolutionary measures to sustain their desperate fortunes, and in the end will fail to submit their work to the people for ratification or rejec-

Let us, therefore, present a united front, and with a general advance along our lines Radicalism will not only be routed but overwhelmed, and a victory for Civil Liberty assured for 1876

The London Times on the French Education Bill.

LONDON, June 17 .- The says the French University Education Bill, as amended, makes changes of immense importance. It gives a death blow to a system of education-al dispotism, under which a secular and often skeptical lady has hitherto shaped higher teaching of young men who filled the professions and made the laws of the country.

The French Assembly-Passage of the University Bill. Paris, June 17.—The Assembly to-day passed the University education bill by a majority of 54 votes. An amendment of M. Parris was adopted providing that degrees be awarded by the board of examiners which is to consist of half of free professors. This is regarded as a victory for the ultramontanes, as free pro fessors are clericals.

More London Failures. London, June 17 .- Malcolm Hud son & Co., Japan merchants, number 5 Crosby square, and Annibal Gonzales & Co., merchants, numbe 59 Palmerston buildings, have failed. It is believed their liabilities are not heavy. Their failure was caused by the suspension of Alexander, Collie

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Centennial of the Great Battle .-Magnificent Military Display-Grand Parade of Knight Templars. Boston, June 17 .- The day was cloudless, and every train swarmed with visitors. Teams were prohibited from using the streets. Notwithstanding the vast crowds, the order was excellent and there were but few arrests. The State troops led the parade. Most hearty shouts were reserved for the Philadelphia Regiment clad in grey, the Maryland fifth, the Charleston Light Infantry and the New York seventh. The Maryland fifth bear its elegant flag presented to it yesterday. The parade of soldiere occupied two hours in passing the State House.

While the military review was proceeding at the State House, the commandery of Knight Tem-plars of Boston, escorted their visiting brethren of the Richmond of Knight Tem-Commandery, to Charlestown, where they were received by the Coeur De Leon Commandery and thence to the Odd Fellows Hall. Addresses of welcome were made by the Hon. Richard Frothingham of the Coeur De Leon Commandery and by Grand Commander W. B. Isaacs which were responded to by Ex-Gov. Walker of Va. Speeches were also made by eminent Commander Patterson of the Coeur De Lean Commandery and eminent Commander W. E. Tanner. A callation closed the exercises. The general display was the most magnificent ever seen in this burnt yesterday at Salem, Mass. with a loss of $30,000 Several additional failures took place in London yesterday. Mostly among East India Houses. There is much disquietude in business circles. An Atchison (Mo.) dispatch says that yesterday vast swarms of locusts were passing that locality going northwest. All the counties of Ohio are rep resented in the State Democratic Convention which met in Columbus yesterday. Gov. Wm. Allen was re-nominated for Governor and Samuel F. Casey for Lieut. Governor.

Heavy additional failures are reported in London, among them that Young, Borthwicks & Co., whose liabilities are stated at twelve and a half millions, and John Anderson & Co. at ten million. Reports from five-sixths of Mis souri promise immense crops. It is estimated that the Arkansas Vall will produce 2,000,000 bushels wheat and Northwestern Kansas as much

The National Board of Trade yesterday adopted a resolution memorializing grocers to restore the postage law to its former status. A resolu tion bearing early specia payment was adopted by a vote of 31 to 8.

It is thought that Gov. Allen would be re-nominated by acclamation at the Democratic Convention which asembled in Ohio yesterday. For the Lieutenant Governorship there will be a lively little fight. Hon. Samuel F. Haunt, of Cincinnati, a young man of great ability, who has already made his mark in polities, will make a strong run and will very likely win. Mr. Converse, Speaker of the last House of Representatives, is also named and is a very strong man. If he consents to run he will give Hunt a strong pull.

The Beecher scandal has reached Africa, and the natives crowd around Stanley and brandish clubs and yell for the latest developments.
